

Dear Applicant:

Thank you for your inquiry regarding the Graduate Program in Pathobiology at Johns Hopkins. We are very much interested in attracting talented students from other countries to our program. However, we do caution applicants that the admissions process is highly competitive for both US citizens and foreign residents. Regardless of country of origin, we require all incoming students to have financial support from our program or another institutional source. The estimated annual expenses of a graduate student in this program for 2025-2026 (including living expenses, tuition, health care and other fees) are approximately $122,000. Funding from the Program itself is very limited, but support could also come from:

- a) A scholarship from your past or current institution, your government, or an international organization, (such as the World Health Organization)
- b) A foundation award (such as Rockefeller or Howard Hughes)

In your application, please discuss your plans for obtaining support from one of these sources. Final admission to the program requires some documentation verifying that adequate and appropriate financial resources are available.

Please visit the following website if seeking funding for study in the United States:

<http://www.nafsa.org/>

Again, thank you for your interest in our program.

Sincerely,

Karen S. Sfanos, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Pathology &
Director of Admissions
Graduate Program in Pathobiology

Dear Applicant:

Listed below are the approximate expenses for the first year of study in the Graduate Program in Pathobiology beginning in July 2025. The figures shown below are U.S. dollars and do not reflect inflationary increases over the five year-period of study.

*APPLICATION FEE	$	125.00 (up to 4 programs)
*MATRICULATION FEE		740.00
TUITION & LIVING EXPENSES (Single)		66,580.00 (Tuition)
(Housing, Food, Books, etc.)		50,000.00 (Living Expenses)

INDIVIDUAL BENEFITS:

Individual medical, dental and vision insurance as well as University Health Services are provided to graduate students. The annual estimated 2022-23 support is as follows:

UHS Fee	$	900.00
Dental Insurance		200.00
Health Insurance		3292.00
Vision Insurance		26.90

*(Family health coverage is available – Dental coverage is only for student)

TOTAL EXPENSES (1st year only)	$	121,739.90
--	-----------	-------------------

 Applicant may be responsible for these fees.*